Multi unit residential development with a civil design scope (site grading, accessible parking lot design, and site servicing design)

Strum's civil engineers are proud of the work they have done to expand and improve Atlantic Canada's infrastructure and communities. Stormwater management, site grading and layout, underground services, site access and egress, sewage collection systems, potable and fire water systems, construction supervision, specifications, and tendering are just a few of the services we offer. We stand by our clients as technical experts to provide cost-effective solutions for projects in communities where we work and live.
